

Impact of Meth Toxins in Real Estate

TIPS, TOOLS, & RESOURCES

Methamphetamine toxins have been highly visible in our local and national media in recent months with several libraries and other public buildings testing positive along the Front Range, Colorado Springs, and Pueblo. Contamination exposure has proven it can cause very serious health issues and can cost property owners thousands of dollars not usually covered by various types of insurance policies.

Educate and advocate to help protect your clients with this 2-unit Colorado DORA accredited CE class presented by Kathi McCarty of Meth Toxins Awareness Alliance.
